While Enjoying our Recreational Beaches...

Del Mar Beach Resort recreational beach sits adjacent to a premier training area that is also home to two of Camp Pendleton's rarest bird species. The sandy dunes and estuary just to the north of Del Mar recreational beach is home to thousands of federally endangered and threatened birds who nest in colonies every year from March to September. These birds are the California least tern and the western snowy plover. The Del Mar recreational beach terminates at the northern end of the developed R/V campground. While the boundary fence does not go all the way down to the water's edge, please observe the posted warnings and remain south of the large kiosk sign and fence delineating the training beach. Per the Commanding General, recreational activities must be pre-authorized beyond this point due to protection of these rare species and the fact that this is an active military training area. (Military active duty may continue to participate in PT and training when called in to LONGRIFLE; however, there are seasonal restrictions for units greater than 13 personnel and setbacks from posted nesting sites – please check your training SOPs for details). Also be aware that pet dogs must be on leash when recreating at Del Mar, and all trash must be placed in receptacles. Please help Camp Pendleton observe good conservation practices in order to protect endangered terns and plovers for future generations! San Diego Zoo biologists monitor the endangered birds and their nests each season.

If you see a Zoo biologist on the Del Mar recreational beach please say hello and ask them about these special birds - they would love to answer your questions!

Endangered Birds – Do Not Disturb!

Keep pets, children and yourself away from birds and nesting sites. Place trash in proper containers.

Our community includes more than just humans! Please be mindful of wildlife and give these protected species space to raise their young.

Maintenance

Summer's just around the corner! Here are a few maintenance and safety reminders:

Give your air conditioner a test run to ensure it's operating properly. Don't wait until the first scorching day! Please initiate a maintenance request if needed.

Let Mother Nature cool your home – open windows on cool mornings and evenings, close windows and shades during the heat of the day.

Summer means more outdoor activities – be on the lookout for runners, bike riders and children playing. Don't forget sunscreen and bike helmets!

Watch children around water. It only takes a few seconds of inattention and a few inches of water for tragedy to happen.
